To whom it may concern,

Thank you very much for your email.

I am interested in requests which were rejected or withheld in full only when the information is held by The National Archives. A report without the requests' accompanying text/any personal information would be great, if your system can produce one. I am happy for you to indicate where the request is for records within the Ministry of Defence Service personel records project.

With regards to requests made for corporate records, please provide a list of any such which are not on the FOI transparency pages, or due for further publication. Depending on how many remain, would it be possible to redact the personal information if present within the requests? If this would exceed the cost limit, I am happy to narrow down the timeframe.

I hope this assists you with my request. Let me know if you need further clarification.

Best wishes,
Ceidra

Dear FOI Team,

I would like to contest your rejection of my FOI request under Section 14 of the Act. In your response you state that I am using a 'scattergun approach' with my request which 'seems to have been solely designed for fishing for information without any idea of what might be revealed'. I would like to clarify my motive for this request; I am conducting research into up-to-date statistics relating to which sections of the Act are used most often by the DCMS in responses which withhold the information requested. This is in the public interest as it allows an analysis of how far the FOI Act is serving its intended purpose of allowing public scrutiny of governmental activity.

Dear FOI Assessor,

Thank you very much for your email.

To clarify the purpose of my request is to gather specific data regarding the sections of the Act/exemptions which are most often used by the National Archives' Freedom of Information Centre in their responses to FOI requests, specifically when the information has been withheld in full. Therefor a representative sample of response letters would not be appropriate. I hope this explanation dissolves any possible engagement of Section 14 of the FOI Act my request might have.

If the timeframe of 1st October - 1st November 2023 is still too broad, please narrow it down a further two weeks to 16th October 2023 - 1st November 2023 (inclusive).

I would also like to state that there is no issue with the use of duplicated templates in the response letters provided.

Dear Disclosure Team,

Following up from my previous FOI request, which exceeded the cost limit, I would like to further narrow the timescale and ask access to all FOI requests and their responses letters made to the Ministry of Justice between 1st July 2024 and 31st July 2024 (inclusive), where the information requested was withheld in full. Please include those refused in full with an exemption cited in the response; or those refused due to section 12, section 14 and section 8 of the Act.

I do not expect requests where you provided part or all of the requested information, where clarification was requested from the applicant but not received, or where the applicant withdrew their request, to be included. If the timeframe still engages section 12, please narrow it down to a two week period of 1st July 2024 -17th July 2024.

Thank you for your time in advance.

Kind regards,
Ceidra Murphy
